Zehorah

Zehorah is a member of the African Hebrew Israelites of Jerusalem, Zehorah resides in Dimona, Israel, in "The Village of Peace." Known for its achievements in communal living and self sufficiency, they are arguably considered the world's most progressive and health conscious community. Forty years after daring to chart a course contrary to contemporary trends and being forged in the furnace of adversity, they have been called "the miracle in the desert" and "an island of sanity".

As adherents to the visionary teachings and example of spiritual leader Ben Ammi, they are sought after globally as advisors in health and nutrition, agriculture, education and community development. Since music is an inherent reflection and expression of the artist's mind, environment and experience, it is such that uniquely shapes and colours Zehorah's music. Zehorah sings only of that which she knows.

While an obvious metaphor for Zehorah's budding artistry, her new album "Blossom in the Desert" refers to the prophetic regeneration of the Northeast African landscape of the Judean Desert, where she and other community members have forged a lifestyle that is now in full bloom. Indeed, this blossom has many faceted petals.

This album is graced with the full range of talent from the Royal Kingdom Productions label, with appearances from numerous community artists, including members of the famed "Soul Messengers". Jerusalem's location is the centre of the Fertile Crescent and means that it has always been a cultural crossroads since ancient times. An eclectic range of ethnic influences and nuances are featured on this album. Multi-talented herself, Zehorah plays keyboards, percussion and even cello, contributing her personal special touch to the album.

Zehorah is a classically-trained virtuoso, she was a featured vocal soloist in Spanish opera performed with the Jerusalem Symphony Orchestra. On this new album there's no mistaking her familiar "soul sistah" roots! Zehorah opens the album with a spoken prologue on rhythm; her authoritative vocal projection, yet soothing diction effectively combine to convey the message of how African-Edenic people lost the "Holy"—"as in righteous, not religious" says Zehorah. The album blends elements of rhythms to take the listener on a journey of life and colour through her sonic paintings. The listener joins her on a melodious and rhythmic journey of self-discovery and realized purpose. Weaving a seamless thread like a theatrical work, the album songs convey its message of promise, praise, relationship and ultimate reconciliation.
